The journey continues to the charming village of Nordeste, often called the most flower-filled town on the island, known for its peaceful streets and colorful gardens. From there, you travel to Ponta do Arnel, the easternmost tip of São Miguel, where the lighthouse stands as a sentinel above the Atlantic and the small fishing port rests at the base of steep cliffs.

Along the route, you'll pause at two of the island's most breathtaking viewpoints: Ponta do Sossego and Ponta da Madrugada. Both offer sweeping panoramas of the ocean and surrounding mountains, perfect for appreciating the untouched beauty of this part of the island.
